THE WHOLESALE TRADE OF RALEIGH.

It is with great gratification we

A GALLANT DEED.—The last number of the Tarboro Southern contains the following notice of a gallant deed:

A few weeks since a young man of possession, commenced business in Tarboro as a wholesale grocer and commission merchant, representing a branch from two of the largest houses of Wilmington and New York.

Two weeks ago he had occasion to visit Washington, and took passage on the steamer "Vesta."

As the steamer, on her downward trip, and going at full speed, was approaching some landing below Greenville, a negro man fell overboard.

The steamer was immediately slowed and a small boat lowered, but such was the speed of the boat that the unfortunate man must have perished but for the gallant conduct of the gentleman alluded to.

Seeing the danger, he threw off his coat and boots, sprang in the water and succeeded in reaching the drowning man as he was going down the third time.

They were both taken up by the small boat, but the gentleman is reported to have presented a most laughable appearance upon his arrival at Washington.

Being a rather lengthy individual the points borrowed from some short friend on the boat did not add much dignity to his general bearing.

Mr. S. S. Nash, is the gentleman who performed this gallant deed. And Mr.

Nash is a wholesale grocery dealer and cotton buyer, representing the Houses of

Williams & Murchison, Wilmington, and Murchison & Co., New York.

A WARNING TO BACHELORS.—M.

Bertilion has read a paper before the Academy of Medicine of Paris, strongly maintaining the uses and benefits of conjugal association. His array of figures is startling and should awaken old bachelors to a true sense of their condition. According to Mr. Bertilion, to not marry is to die:

"The figures show that between the ages 20 and thirty years, 1,000 married men furnish 6 deaths; 1,000 bachelors 10 deaths. From 30 to 34 years of age, the same classes respectively, furnish 7, 11 and 17 deaths.

The Outside World as Seen by a Raleighite.

We have been permitted to publish the following extract from a private letter written by a young naval officer of this city. It was not written with a view to publication.

MALTA, Nov. 19, 1872.

From my earliest

youth I was taught to look upon a genuine Maltese cat as the embodiment of all beauty and grace; therefore,

when I went ashore the other day it was but natural that my first desire should be to see such a cat as my dreams had often pictured. I landed at the Custom House, and after fighting my way through about an hundred guides, reached the gate of the old city of Va-letta, and entered the town filled with anxious expectations, the accumulation of twenty-two years. I strained my eye in every direction around corners and into open doors, into alleys and upon the house-tops, until finally, after going some quarter of a mile my search was rewarded, and I saw a real, live Maltese. Seated upon one of her hind legs with her fore-legs doubled up underneath her body, and her two near legs standing stiffly out, and winking with her one eye across the street, while she wagged a tail two inches long in unison with her winks, was the ugliest animal

I ever looked upon. Her body was a dirty yellow, eighteen inches long and two in diameter. Some Malta boy may have been responsible for her lack of an eye, but from the faded appearance of her tail, there can be no doubt but that it was shortened while she was yet unborn. Shades of Apollo! My early impressions vanished like a Sally Lunn, and although I may heretofore see Maltese cats as graceful as gazelles, this first experience will continue with me.

I will go ashore to-morrow, and see all the lions, and will finish this letter with mention of them.

I was standing watch on the forecastle the other day when there came forward one of the most foreign, monkish, fishy priests I ever saw. He was dressed as Romish

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1872.

WHAT HAS THE LEGISLATURE DONE?

Since the adjournment of the Legislature, complaints have been made that that body has done nothing comparatively, and has cost $50,000 of the people's money without being able to show any return for this expenditure.

Such complaints are entirely unfounded. The Legislature was in session one month. It was ascertained soon after it assembled that it would be impossible to adjourn by the first of January, in justice to the important questions which would demand action at the present session.

It was resolved, therefore, to take a recess for one month, to allow the members to return home during the holidays, and remain sufficiently long to attend to their private business for the close of this and the commencement of the next year.

The charge that the Legislature did but little during the time it was in session is not true. We know that much has been done.

It is true that the work done has not made much show, but several important acts were passed, and others considered, and many bills were introduced affecting the most vital interests of the State, which will be acted on at an early day after the recess.

We doubt whether the State has ever had a more industrious set of Representatives than the present Legislators. A large majority of the members have addressed themselves assiduously to their duties, and have been laboring faithfully and efficiently.

The work that has been done in actual session is but a tithe of the actual amount that has been accomplished. The important Committees held meetings daily after the adjournment of the morning's session, and often kept at their duties from early in the afternoon until night, perfecting bills, discussing questions pertaining to their respective Committees and considering propositions and suggestions.

Such matters as the Constitutional amendments, arrangement of the State debt, education, immigration and the like, which have not yet been acted on, have been postponed with the view of having them thoroughly discussed and judiciously matured. These subjects are of too great magnitude to be hastily disposed of, but should be considered with deliberation, prudence and wisdom.

A CARD FROM MESSRS. LOVE AND HUMPHREY.

The Raleigh Sentinel of yesterday contained a card of over three columns in length, signed by W. L. Love and L. W. Humphrey, Esqs., giving their reasons to the people of North Carolina why they did not support Gov. Vance, the Conservative nominee for United States Senator.

These gentlemen say they feel justified in publishing the address as a reply to the "coarse and abusive letter" of Gov. Vance, published in the Charlotte Observer. It is well known, however, that Mr. Love had declared frequently before Gov. Vance's letter appeared, the purpose of Judge Merrimon's Conservative supporters to issue an address of the kind.

The burden of this very tedious and elaborate document is to show a combination or coalition between Ransom and Vance on the Senatorial question. As this charge is positively, emphatically, and indignantly denied by both General Ransom and Governor Vance, we do not think the people of North Carolina will pay much heed to the conclusions to which Messrs. Love and Humphrey have arrived.

We have no desire to open the discussion as to the propriety of the course of the gentlemen with whom we have differed on the Senatorship, in regard to their duty to the party that trusted them with the high and responsible duties of representing their views and interests in the Legislature.

We have not assailed any of these gentlemen through these columns, and while we think the precedent they have set, in not yielding to the will of the majority, is fraught with great danger to our party, we are willing to leave the matter to the future to determine whether the error is theirs or our own.

Believing the Conservative party can only be maintained by strict organization, by harmony and co-operation, the News will always be found inside the party lines, standing firmly and faithfully by our nominees, and calling upon all who have the interests of the party at heart to do likewise.

OVERTHROW OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

Congress has called upon the President for information in regard to the State of affairs in Louisiana.

One hundred of the most intelligent and respectable citizens of New Orleans have recently gone on to Washington City, to lay before President Grant a full statement of the outrages committed by the Pinchback followers, with the view to induce the President to withdraw his recognition of the bogus State Government which has been established in fraud and usurpation.

The Judge of the Federal Court,

Durell, is a Radical candidate for United States Senator from Louisiana, and an injunction against Wormoth and the legally elected Legislature, was issued by him, and by his order the Pinchback Government has been installed in power.

The lawful Government of Louisiana is thus set aside by a Federal Judge, and the President of the United States comes forward with the whole power of the army and navy of the United States to uphold and maintain the action of his political followers.

It is Judge Durell is justified by the Enforcement Act, as he claims that he is, or by any other law of the land, and if the President has any authority to interfere in the interest of either political party in Louisiana, then it is time that the country was informed of the true character of the Government under which the American people are living, that the worst may be known at once, and that we may realize the fact that central despotism is the established law.

If Durell and the President are acting illegally and without authority, let the law be applied and the people of Louisiana protected in their rights and liberties.

In the present state of confusion and disorder, local government has been overthrown by the power of Federal bayonets and the rights of States trampled in the dust. The people are at the mercy of a set of unprincipled politicians, intent on the spoils of office, who are encouraged in their work of shameless usurpation by the countenance and support of the Radical Administration.

THE CREDIT MOBILIER FRAUD.

We took occasion, during the Presidential campaign, to refer to the bribery of leading Radical members of Congress in connection with the Credit Mobilier fraud.

Some ten or twelve prominent Congressmen were implicated in the testimony furnished by Colonel McComb in a law suit, and the circumstantial evidence against several of the accused was so strong that no denial of their complicity in the bribery has been yet published.

Messrs. Boutwell and Speaker Blaine, of Maine, were vindicated, but we believe none the others were.

The matter is now undergoing an investigation before a Committee appointed by Congress for that purpose. The Committee meets in secret session, and therefore the evidence which it has taken has not yet been made public. Enough is known, however, of the developments not only to justify the charges, but also to leave little room of the guilt of a number of the suspected.

The Credit Mobilier fraud is not a myth—but, unless the reports now current prove unfounded, will prove a terrible reality to some of those who are now occupying high positions in Radical ranks.

The provision made by the late Edwin Forrest, for the establishment of a home for the support and maintenance of actors and actresses disabled by age or infirmities, is an indication of sound sense and correct judgment that cannot be too highly estimated. It had occupied his serious attention for a long time before his death, and the general details of the charity were carefully considered by him during the last years of his eventful life. That his views and wishes will be faithfully executed, there is not the slightest doubt. The great actor could not possibly have a prouder monument than "The Edwin Forrest Home."

A conflict is now going on in West Virginia as to the proper place to locate permanently the seat of government. The lower house of the Legislature has passed a bill removing the capital from Charleston to Wheeling, but it is doubtful whether the Senate will ratify the act. Naturally such a struggle must create some excitement, and our only desire is that the matter may be disposed of in accordance with the real interest of the people of the Commonwealth.

The usurping Legislature which Grant upholds in Louisiana is made up principally of negroes, three fourths of the members being black. To support with the bayonet an illegal body of white men would be but enough to sustain a usurping negro Legislature in power over the white people of a State is an act of tyranny which goes a little beyond anything in the nature of despotism known in the history of the world.

They have a place for the sale of iced drinks at Newark, which they humorously call a "liquor-ice factory."

PETERSBURG, VA.

FALL TRADE, 1872.

We take pleasure in informing the Merchants of Virginia and North Carolina, that we are now receiving by daily arrivals from the Northern cities our Fall supply of

Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods and Notions and will be prepared to offer by the 20th of September, the Largest Stock in the State.

Our superior advantages in the purchase of Goods having a resident buyer in New York and buying direct from manufacturers and their agents, enable us at all times to offer goods as low as any Jobber in any Northern city.

We cordially and confidently invite every buyer visiting this market to an examination of our stock, feeling assured that our prices and terms will make it to his interest to buy of us.
